UK sea diving: Apart from our regular club events at inland dive sites we also organise a number of UK sea diving trips each year. Often using hard boats and ribs popular destinations are Anglesey and the Welsh coast. Weymouth, Falmouth, Porth Kerris along the south coast. We try to cater for all levels of experience.

Shark Tank Diving - Edinburgh Weekend
 Each year we organise a fantastic weekend in the beautiful city of Edinburgh. Firstly, how about a days diving in the marine reserve at St Abbs on the Saturday, then a leisurely drive to the Scottish capital for a night out on the town. B&B / hotel by arrangement. Sunday free to explore the City or further explore the local dive sites. Sunday evening we then join the sharks in the tank at Deep Sea World. Guests are welcome to observe. B&B / hotel by arrangement. Diving at either St Abbs or Eyemouth, tide and weather permitting. Shark tank dive minimum qualification is PADI Advanced Open Water Diver.

50 meter Chamber Dive & Old Fashioned Diving Day
 Ever wondered what it is like to be marked out of your skull at 50 metres yet still be dry? See air move in front of your face, watch a tennis ball become as small as a ping-pong ball, speak like Donald Duck and experience the "Rapture of the Deep".
 What was it like in the pioneering days of diving using surface fed air, hard hat, canvas suit, lead boots and all the gear + modern intercoms.
 On a more serious note you will learn and experience a fully functional, twin lock decompression chamber in action. Now is your chance to find out on what has become one of our most popular trips.
 A two event day interspersed with a pub lunch. The minimum qualification is PADI Open Water Diver.
